Elos

This stunning modular collection transforms outdoor spaces into sunny social spots. The acacia wood tabletop acts as a stunning focal point, with a weather-resistant finish that'll stand up to the rain. And here's the clever twist: tables nest and armchairs tuck away. So you'll never be short on space.

For picnicware and accessories, visit us in store or at diy.com

Indoor style, outdoor living

Bring your style outdoors. With outdoor furniture to suit every style and a range of weather-resistant rugs and cushions, here's some inspiration to help make your outdoor space your favourite room in the house.

Furniture that fits

Furniture is an important part of your home's style, and your garden is a large part of that. From natural rattan textures to classic wood styles, you can find the furniture that fits with the rest of your décor, helping you extend your signature look into your outdoor space. In this cosy setup, the Riveo 4 seater coffee set complements the living room's understated feel, creating a seamless flow between indoors and outdoors.

Plant some joy

The right plants can help bring your garden space to life. Along with any borders and raised beds, placing potted plants around your outdoor seating area gives you the perfect blend of nature and home comforts. And by adding some indoor plants to your home, you can create a harmonious feel between the two spaces.

Discover the range at your local B&Q garden centre or at div.com

Accessorise your outdoors

Adding cushions, rugs and throws is another easy way to stamp your style on your garden. These ditsy leaf and mango cushions add a pop of colour to the neutral-coloured sofa, while a herringbone rug gives the space a relaxed, homey vibe that's perfect for unwinding. And when the weather turns, a bioclimatic pergola is ready to keep the rain off – creating a 5th room you can enjoy all year round.

Dine out at home

Alfresco dining just got better.
Transform your outdoor space into the ultimate entertaining spot with the new Cucino outdoor kitchen range, perfect for anyone that wants to take their cooking skills to the garden.

Build it your way

With a choice of four modular units, you can arrange your outdoor kitchen to suit your space. Keep it simple with a couple of double cabinets, or add a corner cabinet to create a spacious U or L-shaped setup. You can even add your gas barbecue, ready for all those epic summer feasts.*

Culinary perfection

Keep your cooking essentials close at hand. Each kitchen cabinet comes with roomy internal shelves, perfect for drinks, barbecue tools or outdoor dinnerware. Three of the cabinets also feature woodeffect worktops for food and drink prep, and an extra metal shelf to keep herbs, spices and utensils close by.

Year-round entertaining

Designed for year-round use, the Cucino range is crafted from heavy-duty steel, with a durable anthracite powder coating and adjustable feet for uneven ground. Arrange it under a covered space, like the Tehuano bioclimatic pergola, and enjoy outdoor dining in every season.

Your garden by night

Keep enjoying your outside space long after the sun sets. From string lights and fire pits to light-up pergolas, here's some inspiration to help you create a cosy evening setup in your garden. Perfect for the nights you never want to end.

Add some warmth

Marshmallows at the ready. When the temperature cools, a firepit or chiminea can add a warming, festival-like atmosphere that makes outdoor gatherings feel extra special. A low smoke firepit is a great option for built-up areas and cities, with an advanced airflow design to minimise smoke and reduce pollution.

Light it up

As well as lighting up paths and steps, outdoor lighting can add a beautiful ambience to your garden. These cosy Noma festoon lights create a gorgeous overhead glow, while the solar-powered stake lights work to shine a light on plants and flowers. For larger gatherings, or even just a cosy catch-up, the Breva pergola features colour-changing LED lights to help you keep the conversation going.
