Instructions

Mount on a solid wooden base that can support the weight when the containers are fully filled.

Inspect the mounting surface to make sure that there are no hidden electrical wires, cables or pipes.

Align slots in perforated panels so that the slots holding the containers are open on the top.

Hold perforated boards against the surface on which they are to be mounted and align them with the help of a spirit level.
Now set the mark for the 8 mounting holes.

After checking the mounting surface for potential wiring etc. drill the mounting holes and then mount the perforated boards to the wall.

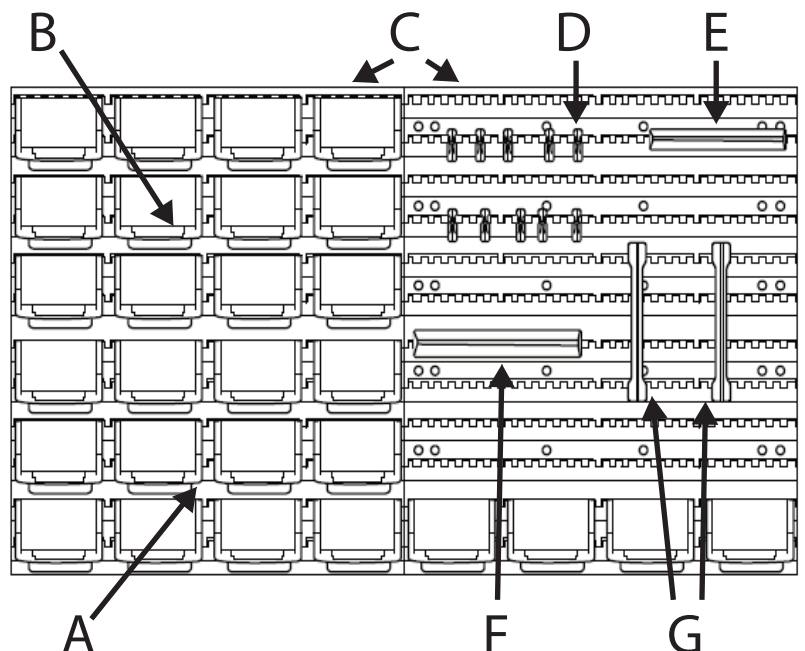

Hang display boxes from the perforated boards by gripping the rear lip of the display boxes and slotting them into the open slot of the perforated board.
